Juspay Becomes 1st Unicorn of '26 After $50m Fundraise

Funding round, led by WestBridge Capital, values the firm at around $1.2 b

Our Bureau

Mumbai: Juspay has become the first homegrown startup to achieve unicorn status in just over the last six months after raising $50 million from WestBridge Capital at a valuation of about $1 billion.

The transaction comprised a mix of primary and secondary funding, with 10 percent to early investors and employees through stock sales. The Bengaluru-based company said it has a valuation of $1 billion.

"Our focus over the last decade has been to build a highly-complexed platform of global payments through first-principles engineering and design," said co-founder Sheetal Lalwani.

"This round reflects our growth and provides liquidity options for our early investors and team members."

Founded in 2012 by Lalwani and Vimal Kumar, along with Ramanathan RV, who exited in 2019, Juspay provides payment solutions for e-commerce and micro-financial software to large enterprises and banks. According to the company, it processes over 300 million transactions daily and handles an annual volume of over $1 billion.

Juspay's clients include large tech firms including Google, e-commerce companies like Amazon, Flipkart, Swiggy, and various financial institutions like HSBC. Prior to the latest fundraise, Juspay had secured $60 million in April 2023, in a funding round led by Kedaar Capital, with participation from SoftBank and Asiacor, at a valuation of $900 million.

ment orchestration platform to a full-stack API platform and now to a payments and infrastructure provider for banks," said Deepak Rammreddy, partner at WestBridge Capital.

The company received its payment aggregator (PA) license from the Reserve Bank of India in February 2024, a move that caused tensions within the payments ecosystem.

Major payment aggregators accuse Juspay of directing customers away from its own PA service, citing a conflict of interest. In December 2024, PhonePe asked its merchant clients to stop using Juspay's services, pushing them to use its own platform. Razzapay and Cashfree took similar steps in January 2025.

"Our conviction in them stems from their relentless innovation, evolving from a pa-

K'taka HC Lifts Ban on Bike Taxis, Allows Players to Apply for Permits

Court says aggregators can offer bike taxi services since motorcycles fall within the definition of taxis

Our Bureau

Bengaluru: A division bench of the Karnataka High Court on Friday paved the way for full-fledged resumption of bike taxi operations by setting aside a single judge's stay and easing the ban on this service imposed by the state government.

A division bench of Chief Justice Vibhu Bakshi and Justice CM Joshi allowed appeals filed by ride-hailing services, including Taxi Perfektus, Ola, Uber, Careem, as well as the Bike Welfare Association against the single-judge bench's order.

In March 2024, the state government banned bike taxi services, holding that ride-hailing platforms were not offering electric two-wheelers that was required under the prevailing policy. The operators petitioned the court for review. However, Justice BM Shyam Prasad of the HC in April last year said ride-hailing platforms were not allowed to offer bike taxi services until a policy was in place.

The court then ordered to halt the service until the state framed rules under the Motor Vehicles Act to regulate the segment.

The division bench, in its order, said that a single-judge court cannot make a decision that contradicts the decision of the state government.

Welcoming the court order, a Uber spokesperson said, "Bike taxi serves as a vital mobility lifeline, offering people an affordable and convenient way to navigate traffic."

The decision will also bring relief to lakhs of drivers who depend on it for their livelihood. We look forward to engaging with the state government to continue building this mobility ecosystem," the spokesperson added.

While the ban ordered by the single-judge bench had come into effect on June 16 last year, the court directed it to operate after the division bench in August said the government can't prohibit trade.

"The concerned authorities shall consider the pending applications of the aggregators and issue appropriate orders."

The aggregators are also at liberty to file fresh applications for licenses," the bench said in its 11-page judgement.

"...the motorcycle owners are at liberty to file applications for registration of their vehicles as transport vehicles (yellow board). We direct the state government to consider such applications for the registration of two-wheeler as transport vehicles and grant a grant of permits to operate them as contract carriers," it said.

"Whilst the concerned authorities are not precluded from examining relevant aspects of vehicle registration and issuance of permits, the same will not be denied on the ground that motorcycles cannot be operated as transport vehicles or contract carriers," the bench said.

The bench also noted that the business of plying taxicabs is legitimate one, and the right to engage in such activity is protected under Article 30(1)(g) of the Constitution. "Thus, such business is inextricably dangerous, illegal or immoral," it said.

While banning the service by withdrawing its EV bike taxi scheme in 2024, the state government claimed that it was aimed at making roads safer for women.

Welcoming the court order, a Uber spokesperson said, "Bike taxi serves as a vital mobility lifeline, offering people an affordable and convenient way to navigate traffic."

The decision will also bring relief to lakhs of drivers who depend on it for their livelihood. We look forward to engaging with the state government to continue building this mobility ecosystem," the spokesperson added.

While the ban ordered by the single-judge bench had come into effect on June 16 last year, the court directed it to operate after the division bench in August said the government can't prohibit trade.

Our Bureau

New Delhi: At-home services platform Urban Company on Friday reported a 33% jump in its operating revenue for the December quarter to ₹33 crore, spurred by new user growth, steady revenue retention, and growth in core categories during the festive season.

The company posted a loss of ₹21 crore last quarter, down from ₹26 crore in the instant business segment weighed on overall profitability. The company had recorded a profit of ₹23 crore a year earlier, driven by a one-## time tax gain.

"The aggregate profit from the rest of our business will be large enough to offset losses from InstaHelp from the third quarter of FY23," Abhiraj Singh, managing director and chief executive of Urban Company, said during a post-quarter earnings analyst call.

For the December quarter, the InstaHelp operating loss of ₹6 crore, up from ₹14 crore in the previous quarter, was driven by a decline in the number of monthly active service professionals (MASPs) of InstaHelp, which is less than 500,000, out, needs to rise to 750,000 for the category to reach break-even. Urban Company's expenses rose to ₹423 crore in the third quarter of FY23 from ₹202 crore a year earlier. Most of it was due to staff, purchase of stock-in-trade, and other expenses.

With a presence in 55 cities, Urban Company has 1.5 million registered transacting users and over 50,000 monthly active service professionals (MASPs) in the previous quarter.

On competition, Bhai said there is competitive intensity in InstaHelp, which is an attractive segment. "But it is expected and nothing new for InstaHelp to outperform its peers."

Urban Company's business is well capitalised, with ₹2.05 crore in cash, which it plans to invest to scale its newer businesses such as InstaHelp and Native.

Rebu Balakrishnan

Mumbai: Kotak Investment Advisors Ltd (KIAL) is set to close its largest fund—$2-billion-plus target US$900 crore Kotak Strategic Situations Fund III (KSSF III)—in the next six months. The fund's first targeted close at $1.2 billion is expected by March and the final by June.

The alternative assets arm of Kotak Group will utilize proceeds from the sector-agnostic fund through a mix of equity, debt, and hybrid instruments, drawing on the firm's experience in special and strategic situations.

"We expect to announce the first close of our third Strategic Situations Fund during meeting 80% of the target before the final close by June this year," Eskew Karra, deputy managing director at Kotak Alternative Asset Managers Ltd (KIAL).

The second fund, with a corpus of $1.5 billion, is almost fully deployed, prompting the launch of the third vehicle.

Tri Set to Review Domestic Leased Circuit Tariffs

Our Bureau

Mumbai: The Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (Trai) will be reviewing tariffs for domestic leased circuit services.

The regulator has issued a consultation paper seeking public and industry views on updating the maximum prices that telecom operators can charge for DLCS.

DLCS are专线租用, private high-speed lines rented by large companies, banks, hospitals, government offices, data centres and cloud service providers for secure and reliable internet connections.

The maximum price caps put in place were more than a decade ago, through the 57th and 58th amendments to the Telecommunication Tariff Order in 2014. At that time, fixed maximum prices were decided only for certain speeds (2 Mbps, which is common in India for voice data, 45 Mbps DS-3, which is for high capacity lines; 135 Mbps STM-1 used for SDH fibre optic and 622 Mbps or STM-4 for backbone links). The price earlier depended on the distance the line covered and the type of circuit used, like VPN-based circuits were left free for the market to decide.

Now, after nearly a decade, new technologies like Dense Wavelength Division Multiplexing (DWDM), Software-defined Wide Area Network (SD-WAN) and Ethernet, not over 500 km, have made it far cheaper to send very large amounts of data without having the capacity to carry speeds up to 800 Gbps and higher. Fibre optic cables are now the main way to provide these services, with several providers using optical fibre in their network services.

The paper said the number of DLC operators has surged from 710 applications in 2014 to 2,100 in 2023, while long-distance operators in 2014 to 71 NLD operators in 2023.

The regulator is also looking at the impact of new technologies

on the market, including the entry of new players and the impact of increased competition in the market.

Trai now seeks stakeholder views on updating the DLC tariff framework in areas including whether allowing smaller ISPs to offer leased circuit services will lead to higher prices, if VPN-based circuits should have regulated maximum ceilings, and how to incorporate cost-reducing technologies.

Telecom jumping from 30% to 40% in 2023, mainly due to increased costs in the network services.

It said average revenue per user

(ARPU) for the sector

increased by 10% in 2023, while average revenue per circuit

(ARPC) increased by 15% in 2023.

It said average revenue per DLC service reached about ₹3,000 crore in 2023-24, of which 55% came from traditional direct (point-to-point) lines, while 47% came from the more flexible VPN services, which are more cost-effective and competitive.

Trai now seeks stakeholder views on updating the DLC tariff framework in areas including whether allowing smaller ISPs to offer leased circuit services will lead to higher prices, if VPN-based circuits should have regulated maximum ceilings, and how to incorporate cost-reducing technologies.
